Foot Ball Game Today

Foot ball enthusiasts will gather at Athletic park this afternoon to see the much-talked-of Omaha-North Platte game. If there is one thing on earth that the local players are anxious to accomplish it is the defeat of the Omaha team—and in this desire the players are not alone. By this we do not mean that there is any ill-feeling toward Omaha, just a friendly rivalry, but success for the local team would encircle it with a halo that would remain for years. To secure this laurel every man on the team will do his utmost—and here's hoping that the best he can do will be sufficient.

Yesterday a committee made a round of the business houses with a petition asking them to close during the game, and this practically all consented to do.

A special train of nine cars crowded with chicken fanciers passed through Wednesday evening enroute to San Francisco to attend the convention of the national poultry association.

Hilmer Thompson came down this morning from Chappell to visit his parents and attend the foot ball game.

Mrs. Chris Paulson is enjoying a visit from her cousin Luella Pallin of Wingate, Ind., who is enroute to the Panama exposition.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

C. C. Hupfer was a visitor in Gering Wednesday.

Hogs are still on the toboggan slide, the bulk yesterday selling at $6.43 in the South Omaha market.

Henry Ford, the auto builder, will pass east in a special car attached to train No. 6 Sunday morning.

Mrs. James McMichael went to Sidney this morning to visit her daughter Mrs. Jack Mann for a week.

Judge Vincent Haskell, of Omaha, came last evening to visit friends and attend the foot ball game today.

Contributions of any of these articles will be very much appreciated by the Associated Charities and will be received at the basement of the library on Tuesdays and Saturdays from 2 to 6 p. m.

The Wasp.

It is said that the male wasp does not sting, but as the male and female wasps wear the same kind of poison and look as much alike as twins the only way to distinguish their sex is to catch one. If it stings it is a female; if not, it is a gentleman wasp.

Cossacks as Riders.

When crossing rivers the Cossacks, to avoid getting wet, throw the left stirrup leather across the saddle and the right stirrup leather in the opposite direction. Then, placing their feet in the reversed stirrups, they stand upright.

A Flow of Strenuous Events

A few days ago a fire occurred at the residence of Mrs. Frank Hiner at Aurora, Nebraska. The fire had its origin through a five year old son and a match. The daughter, fifteen years of age, had just been brought home convalescent from an operation for appendicitis. She was carried from the house and it was believed her hysterical condition would result badly, but did not. Miss Deborah Dusenberry, a young lady who made her home with Mrs. Hiner was to have been married to a Kearney man that evening, but in the afternoon of that day she received a telegram from Kearney informing her that the prospective groom had been taken to a hospital and an operation would be necessary, and Miss Dusenberry immediately left for Kearney.

Big Fire at Miller.

Fire that originated in the store of C. M. Houston at Miller early Tuesday morning wiped out one-half of the business houses of that town and the loss is placed at $50,000 with about one half covered by insurance. Among the business houses destroyed are Maddox hardware store; Houston's general merchandise; the Bank of Miller; the postoffice; the Narcross drug store; Sticker's lodge hall; Dean's shoe store and Mrs. Walker's restaurant. Unfortunately Miller has no fire protection and no means existed for fighting the fire. The lodge hall was used by the Masons, Knights of Pythias, Odd Fellows, Modern Woodmen, Royal Highlanders, Royal Neighbors and Grand Army of the Republic and all lost their entire paraphernalia and furnishings.
